Through
the Looking Glass

A Boat, beneath a sunny sky,
Lingering onward dreamily
In an evening of July —

Children three that nestle near,
Eager eye and willing ear,
Pleased a simple tale to hear —

Long has faded that sunny sky:
Echos fade and memories die:
Autumn frosts have slain July.

Still she haunts me, phantomwise,
Alice moving under skies
Never seen by waking eyes.

Children yet, the tale to hear,
Eager eye and willing ear,
Lovingly shall nestle near.

In a Wonderland they lie,
Dreaming as the days go by,
Dreaming as the summers die.

Ever drifting down the stream —
Lingering in the golden gleam —
Life, what is it but a dream?

The End — or is it the beginning?
Strange illusions haunt your way through this book. Remember, things are not always as they seem, so viewer beware. Proceed with care. (Poem taken from THROUGH
THE LOOKING-GLASS by Lewis Carroll.)

Sir Gawain and the Green Knight

A Madrigal Feaste

Alice said, "Let's pretend we're kings and queens."

"Hear ye, hear ye. It is time to share the glorious bounties of the year." Or so they, the music department, would have us believe. One moment we are all in the mystical and romantic world of Camelot, and the next we are whisked away to the Green Knight's castle, where are perils that no normal mortal man can face.

In our quiet little environment of Camelot, we are feasting and having a wonderful time with King Arthur (Trey Murphy) and Lady Guinevere (Elizabeth Emge), when suddenly a very horrid-shaped man clothed in green and with a green aura appears in our court. He is the Green Knight (Bryan Helveston). He challenges the court of Arthur to a "Christmas game," in which a brave knight will take the Green Knight's axe and cut off his head. In return, that brave knight must seek him out in one year and must receive the same fate. A young, noble knight steps forward. It is Sir Gawain (Ken Thompson). He does his duty and agrees to the terms.

In one year's time, he seeks out the Green Knight. He comes to Lord and Lady Bercilak's castle. Yet another "Christmas game" is played. Lord Bercilak (Stanley Laws) says he is going out each day, for a total of three days. Whatever he kills that day, he will give to Sir Gawain, but whatever Gawain gains that day, he must give to him. Poor Gawain has a different sort of hell on his hands, for he is being pursued by Lady Bercilak (Amy Ghorley).

Above left: I can't believe even in Medieval times husbands ignored their wives!

Middle Left: The Madrigal presents Bryan Helveston as the Green Knight, Ken Thompson as Sir Gawain, Stanley Laws and Amy Ghorley as Lord and Lady Bercilak, Maria Espiritu as the minstrel, Elizabeth Emge as Guinevere, and Trey Murphy as King Arthur.

The performance could not have been complete without the help of the vassals and wenches.

The Medieval musicians, Michael Bohner and Deborah Hicks.

SOPHOMORES

Alice said "... one can't believe impossible things." The White Queen stated, "I daresay you haven't had much practice ... When I was your age, I always did it for half-an-hour a day. Why, sometimes I've believed as many as six impossible things before breakfast."

"You may look in front of you, and on both sides, if you like," said the Sheep; "but you can't look ALL round you — unless you've got eyes at the back of your head." Only in the zany world of Alice would these four individuals come together as officers: President Terry Johnson, Secretary Reed Hyers, Vice President Elizabeth Emge, and Treasurer Trey Murphy.

We, being the people who we are, have embarked on the journey of a lifetime. When we appeared two years ago, people did not have that much faith in us. As we have progressed through the years, we have thus proven ourselves to be. We have raised our own money, though we lost the benefits that we once have had. We have stood our ground and set forth with dreams and desires for the future.

In our freshman year, we held a jail-a-thon, as well as we did this year. Through the cooperation of SGA and our class, swings have been put up around campus.

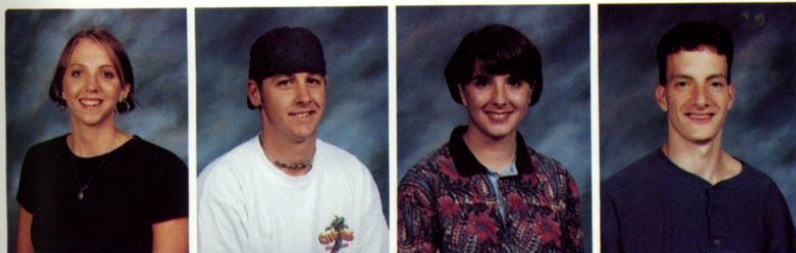

We are growing older and moving on. We have had two different presidents while at Hiwassee, as well as a new music director and English teacher. Though life has not always treated us fairly, we have held our heads high and conquered through adversity.

Life is grand and it is something that we all need to treasure. We have had our share of losses, yet we have celebrated our victories. Through the Looking Glass does best describe us ... we are an ever-changing mass of shape-shifting thoughts and ideas that are not always what they appear or seem to be. We are who we are by no other power than God's own infinite dominion.

She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless dome and starry skies.
And all that's best, dark, and bright
Meet in her aspect and her eyes,
Thus mellowed to that tender light
Which heaven to gaudy day denies.

One shade more, one ray less
Had half impaired the nameless grace,
Which waves in every raven tress
Or softly lightens over her face,
Where thoughts serenely sweet express
How pure, how dear, her dwelling place.

And on that cheek and over that brow,
So soft, so calm, so elegant.
The smile that wins, the tint that glows,
But tell of days in goodness spent.
A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent.

Homecoming Game 1997

November 16, 1996, was Homecoming for Hiwassee College, also known as "The Victory Day." Both the Tigers and Lady Tigers proved their ability to rise above the rest. The final score for the Tigers was 90 Hiwassee and 49 Hazard County. Marshall Phillips led with 18 points and 10 rebounds, while Keiron Shine had 5 assists. The Lady Tigers reigned with a score of 109 and their opponents Lincoln Trail ended with 37 points. The top scorers were Roslane McGill and Cyn-di Ainsworth who had 17 points each. Heather Lenior added 14 points to the score; while Quatrina "Bunkin" Foster had 13 points and Tammy Cox ended with 11 points.

These outstanding accomplishments prove how hard the Tigers and Lady Tigers will work to achieve the overall "victory." With a combination of hard work, great basketball players, and dedicated managers, we were assured a homecoming victory.

"I shouldn't know you again if we did meet," Humpty Dumpty replied . . . "Your face is the same as everybody has — the two eyes . . . nose in the middle, mouth under. It's always the same. Now if you had the two eyes on the same side of the nose, for instance — or the mouth at the top — that would be some help."

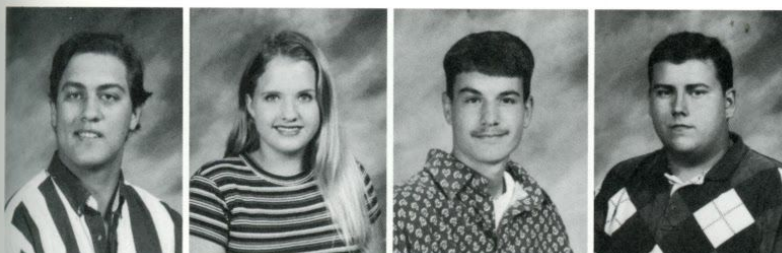

Alice said, "I wonder what'll become of my name when I go in? I shouldn't like to lose it at all — because they'd have to give me another and it would be almost certain to be an ugly one." More officers in Alice's zany world: Treasurer Tamika Stewart, Secretary Nikki Stewart, President Ben Bradford, and Vice President Patrick Hadden.

As a freshman at Hiwassee College, I am very much impressed with the caring atmosphere of the school. When encountering any type of problem, whether it be academic or personal, there seems to always be a concerned member of the Hiwassee family on hand. I think the size of our school is a large factor in this friendly environment. Here at Hiwassee the staff and students alike have time to make you much more than a number.

Also I was pleasantly surprised to find that even though we are situated a ways away from any type of recreational activities outside of campus, there is always something to do on campus. This is due largely to the various clubs that frequently organize and sponsor a variety of activities for the students to partake in.

Baptist Student Union

The BSU is an organization associated with the Tennessee Baptist Convention. All are welcome in this organization despite denomination differences. BSU provides a positive outlook on campus and relates to the community that God reigns most high on our campus. BSU sponsors luncheons every other Wednesday, provided by local area churches. They also take a mission trip every year during spring break to different locations to spread the Good News. The president is Holly Matthews and vice president is Jamie Roberts. The East Region Member-at-Large is Amy Ghorley.

BSU Spring Break Mission Trip

The BSU took a mission trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, over their Spring Break this year in cooperation with UTK's BSU and Pellissippi State's BSU. There were 3 different teams that went to 3 different places.

The group did such things as working at a local orphanage, visiting and helping at juvenile detention centers and at a local class house for the community. Overall, the trip was very successful. The team was changed for life not because of the circumstances of Jamaica, but because of the Spirit of God using them to help others besides themselves.

Christian Student Movement

The CSM group on campus is a group of college students who meet together for one common purpose . . . to praise and worship God. They sponsor Coffee Houses where students can go and get some coffee and fellowship with each other. It includes a wide range of different denominations, but that is not their focus. Their focus is God and they proclaim it for the whole world to see.

They take a fall retreat, where they relax in God's wonderful creation, the creation of nature.

Student Programming Board

I want to say how privileged I was this year to have the opportunity to work with the group of people I did. The Student Programming Board has done an exceptional job. Teachers as well as students have said that the 96-97 school year at Hiwassee was the most active school year that can be remembered. We have done everything such as dances; coffee houses; going to see hockey games; movie nights; the Luau; and numerous other activities. I would like to say thanks to the members of the SPB. I also want to especially thank Stacy Morgan for her leadership and guidance.

The International Relations Club had a wide variety of students this year. These students hailed from four continents:

Africa, Europe, Asia, and North America. They came from nine different countries: Northern Ireland, Iran, Jordan, Rwanda, Mexico, Japan, South Korea, and China. Truly this was a club of international caliber.

Tokyo Institute of Polytechnics is a two-year college for women. The TIP students come to Hiwassee to study English and secretarial skills. These ladies grow not only in their skills,

During the Fall Activities Fair, students buy last year's annual pictures and consider signing up for becoming 1997 staff members.

The Yearbook Staff

A yearbook staff not only consists of fun times and memories, but is full of hard work and dedication year around. Yearbook is a fun place to meet new people, learn new things, and remember the past. The staff devotes a lot of time to taking pictures, cropping them to fit the layout, writing the perfect copy and captions, and covering the wide range of Hiwassee's events so when you look in this yearbook now and in future times, you will enjoy these memories and take pride in the fact that you were a part of Hiwassee College.

The Odhrohir Staff

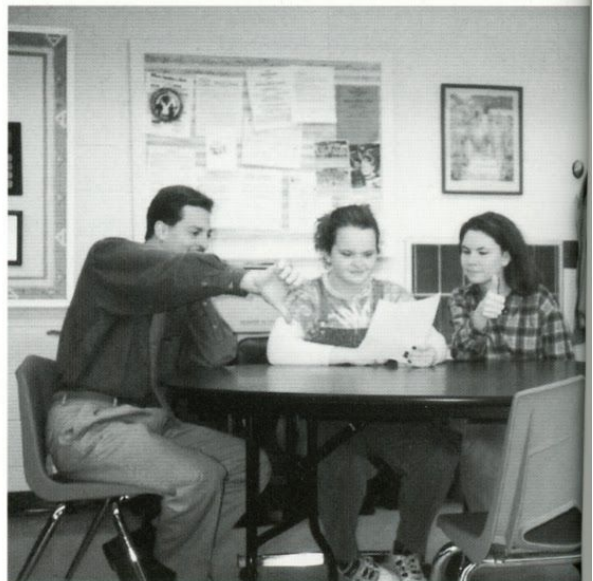

Odhrohir, the college literary magazine, is named after a legendary Norse cauldron or cup of the gods whose liquor bestows poetic genius on mortals. Students, faculty, staff, and alumni are all welcome to contribute creative writing or artwork. The magazine staff lays out the pages in our very own computer lab, using a desktop publishing program, and takes the files on disk to the printer. The result is a creative blend of visual art and language of high quality, published each year during the spring semester and eagerly read by the college community.

— Dr. James Schiavoni

Alice said, "It seems very pretty . . . but it's rather hard to understand! . . . Somehow it seems to fill my head with ideas — only I don't exactly know what they are!"

The Tiger's Paw

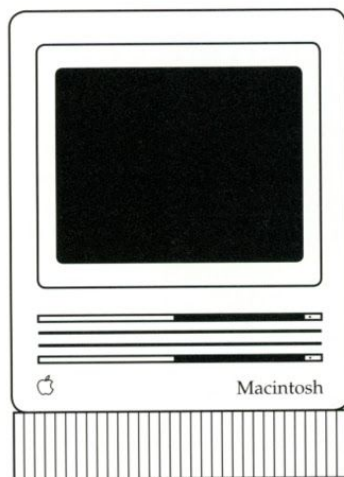

The Tiger's Paw has been at Hiwassee for the past 20 years. It has been operated by faculty, staff, and students during this time. This year, however, a young lady by the name of Maggie Myers took it captive and revived it once again. Her conspirator was Terry Johnson. They were the editors this year. The rest of the staff is Melia Blackwell, Christine Sinness, and Maria Espiritu, with a stunt coordinator and chicken nugget founder Anthony C. Grills.

Hiwassee's HTML Club

Alice said, "Oh, Kitty! how nice it would be if we could only get through into Looking-glass House! I'm sure it's got, oh! such beautiful things in it! Let's pretend there's a way of getting through into it, somehow, Kitty. Let's pretend the glass has got all soft like gauze, so that we can get through."

The HTML Club members for 1997

The HTML Club was organized spring semester as a means of fellowship for students who wanted to learn more about "web page" design. (Web pages are what we see when we "browse" the Internet.) A web page consists of pictures, text and other media forms which are often combined using a simple programming language called Hypertext Markup Language (HTML for short.)

Since web page creation can be both time consuming and costly, the real dividend of the organization is the fact that skills learned are used to assist non-profit organizations within the local area. This year the HTML Club created a web page for the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The officers are Jay Mina, President; Michael Foster, Vice President; Kathryn Rutledge, Secretary; and William Bennett, Treasurer; with Paul Bennett as Advisor.

College Bowl

The Hiwassee College Bowl has been resurrected after many years of being nonexistent. They have proven themselves to be talented and well-rounded in many areas of academic pursuit. They placed 18th in the Nationals and 9th in their district. Terry Johnson was 1st runner up for most points scored by one individual in the National tournament. Way to go, Terry!! All these individuals, however, are very talented and work hard to achieve their goals. The team consists of Terry

Johnson (captain), Amy Ghorley, Heather Bivens, Trey Murphy, Elizabeth Emge, Maggie Myers, Anthony Grills, Michael Foster, and Keith Moser. It is sponsored by Adam Abbott and Lowell Kirk.

This year the Ag Club has participated in events such as creating a petting zoo for Kids' Day on the Quad and the annual "pool tournament" as a fund-raiser. Instead of the annual livestock judging contest, they held a livestock judging clinic that was formed to help young students learn about livestock judging.

Once again, FFA was honored as Club of the Year. Members include Jeremy Walters, Patrick Haddon, Todd Love, Tom Abbott, Melissa Williams, Leroy Haddon, Joe Fields, Brook Marshall, Chris Johnson, Randy Croft, and Andy Burchfield. Officers are Joe Fields, President; Leroy Haddon, Vice President; Patrick Haddon, Treasurer; Brook Marshall, Secretary; and Todd Love, Public Relations; Lena Beth Carmichael, Sponsor.

College Chorale, fall semester

The Hiwassee College Chorale

The Hiwassee College Chorale is a very active group on campus. They participate in most of the activities that the SPB plans. This year, however, they have been under new supervision. The new conductor goes by the name of Mr. Michael Bohner. The accompanist is Ms. Deborah Hicks. They sponsored a trip to UTK to hear the Opera Department's Fall Concert, they sponsored the Southern Gospel sensation Won

By One in concert to help them raise money for their choir tour, and they sponsored a bike raffle. They sing when and where needed.

TIP Choir

Shalom

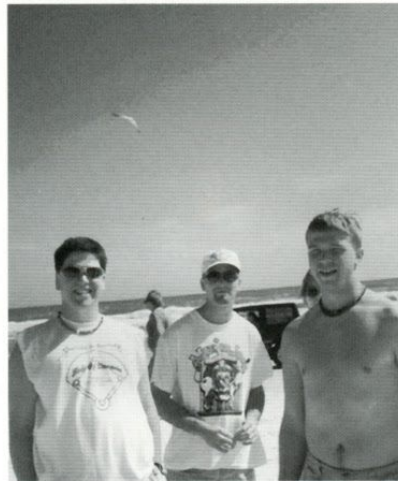

Shalom is a Christian witness ensemble that is only open to those who are in choir and by audition only. They go to various churches around the region to spread their spirit of praise with those who will listen. Shalom means "peace," a greeting used in the BIBLE. What a perfect name for this group!! They bring the peace of the spirit of music to all those who want to hear God's word. They are a more intense group than the choir, yet are not unequally yoked with them. The choir holds strong foundations in Christ as well, the choir just sings more secular songs rather than sacred songs. Remember Psalms 100.

— Amy Ghorley

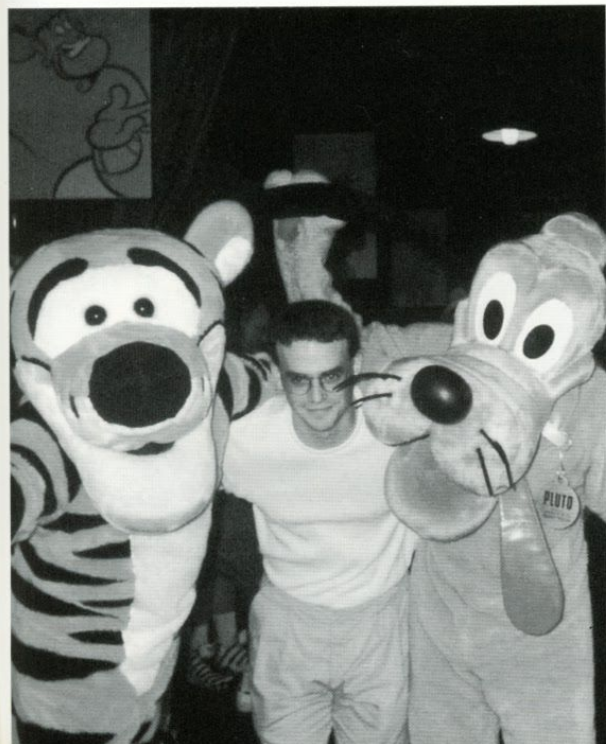

The 1997 Choir Tour

The choir tour took place in everyone's top choice this year ... FLORIDA!!! It was a blast to sing three times and then go to Walt Disney World and Daytona Beach. The first stop was Marietta, Georgia. After the warm reception there, it was off to Plant City, Florida, home of the Bohner family. It was wild, crazy, and yet they managed to fit in a few singing performances!

The Hiwassee Pep Band

The roar of the crowd, the excitement of the game, everything is going well, except now it is even better because we hear live music being played, for the first time! The Pep Band made a lot of head turners this year by playing at the home men's basketball games. How exciting!! The band consisted of Willie Barnett (back up drummer), Danny Lingerfelt (bass guitarist), Amy Banzer (clarinetist), Amy Ghorley (assistant keyboardist and sound effects), Michael Foster (drummer), and Deborah Hicks (ensemble director).

Phi Theta Kappa

The Phi Theta Kappa organization is dedicated to academics, community service, and leadership. They sponsor a Medic Blood Drive twice a year and provide parties for local area Head Start children. They create stress kits and ask parents to buy them during final exam week in the fall. They have a Spring Rally where Regional officers are elected. Officers are: President, Trey Murphy; Vice President of Service, Amy Ghorley; Vice President of Scholarship, Emily Moore;

Secretary, Bridgette Estes; Treasurer, April Powers; and PTK Yearbook Editor, Shannon Littleton. Robbie Hicks is Regional Secretary.

"I know what you're thinking about," said Tweedledum: "but it isn't so, nohow."

"Contrariwise," continued Tweedledee, "if it was so, it might be; and if it were so, it would be; but as it isn't, it ain't. That's logic."

Ten Little Indians

TEN LITTLE INDIANS is a suspense melodrama by Agatha Christie. It installs murder, mystery, chaos, and criminal antics. Who is killing all the guests of Indian Island? No one knows for sure until the bittersweet end when a victim returns from her supposed death, Harriett Wargrave (Kathy Tallent), and relinquishes her plot to Vera Claythorne (Maggie Myers) and Philip Lombard (Trey Murphy). She states that her reason for killing is because she is a judge and these people have gotten on with murder and now it is their time to pay the piper. The story ends triumphantly when Philip shoots her and kills her.

God's Favorite

"I'm really, really angry at you God, yet I still will not renounce you." These are the powerful, dramatic words spoken by Joe (Edward Powers). The familiar story of the book of Job is put into today's language in the play entitled GOD'S FAVORITE. There were many obstacles that Joe and his family had to endure, such as the destruction of Joe's box factory, the bill collectors, plus the many illnesses that Joe had to endure to prove that no matter what the obstacle would be he would never renounce his God. The supporting cast is Trey Murphy, April Powers, Stanley Laws, Emily Moore, Ferol Moses, Andrew Tallent, and Mike Jackson.

Godspell

For the spring musical this year, Theatre Hiwassee presented GODSPELL. GODSPELL, written by Stephen Schwartz, is a play that depicts the parables in St. Matthew. The parables are presented in sort of a relaxed style; however, it did not in anyway make fun of the Bible.

GODSPELL, which premiered in 1971, is filled with uplifting music, which helps the parables come to life. The comedic edge that was added to the show helped to teach the audience the importance of the parables. As a member of the cast, I proudly say that this play has taught me more about the Bible than I knew previously to being in the play, and it will always be a memory dear to my heart.

Many people think cheerleading is not a sport, but are they ever wrong!! Ask any one of the Hiwassee's Cheerleaders and they will tell you it is definitely a sport. They run 4-6 miles a week in practice; lift weights; practice cheers, dances, and jumps — and do fund raisers! Talk about dedication! A cheerleader's season starts in August and doesn't end until May. Cheerleaders deserve more credit than they get for practicing 10 hours a week (if not more!), balancing their classes, going to games, and trying to be involved on campus! Good job, team, for all the hard work!

All of this hard work was led by Chris Cate, the coach of Hiwassee Cheerleaders. Chris has done so much for the Cheerleaders this year, and they all want to say "Thanks! We couldn't have done it without you!"

Also, a special "thanks" goes out to Jason Ford and Trey Murphy for entertaining the crowd as "Madison." Good job, guys! Also, "thanks" to Brooke Stewart for cheering with us! We'll miss you and we love you!!

Hiwassee Cheerleaders have had an excellent year, and we hope next year goes even better!! Go Tigers!

Snow Skiing Class

"There is the mountain, ladies and gentlemen. It is now up to you to conquer that mountain and make it a mole hill. Now, get to it!!" Skiing, one of the most dangerous, yet one of the most exciting sports ever. We are very fortunate that not only does our lovely college offer this class to teach us how to ski, they also give us college credit for it! The ski class was Ben Bradford, Mark Britton, Elizabeth Emge, Deanna Fields, Amy Ghorley, Cory Hammett, Charles Jenkins, Terry Johnson, Kei Kawabata, Mark Lamont, Bryant Lewis, Aimee Messmer, Jay Minani, Kari Moore, Adam Moser, Trey Murphy, Charles Plemons, Jamie Roberts, Shingo Sasaki, Jon Stewart, Erika Tsuruta, Kelly Wakefield, and Travis White.

Lyceum and Cultural Events

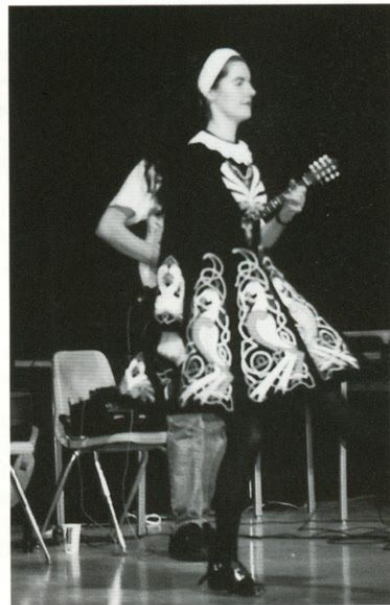

Loren Janes is a stuntman who has performed in many television shows and movies. One of his most recent works was in the Arnold Schartzanager movie True Lies. In that movie he is seen with the horse in the elevator. One of the TV shows he was in was Maverick starring James Garner, and he has done stuntwork in a big handful of John Wayne movies. The next event was the Bluegrass concert.

There was also a musical entitled Wind in the Willows, which was aimed towards smaller children and toddlers. It was a light hearted, entertaining musical based on the book by the same title.

In cultural events, Won By One, sponsored by the Hiwassee Music Department, came to play their music, with back-up vocals by the choir. The music department sponsored, Fay Adams and Keith Mc-Clelland, of UTK's Music Department, in concert.

MACA also brought to us the music of Mick Maloney, an Irish Folksinger, in the month of February. MACA ended the year by having Dr. I Wonder, a scientific magician come and bring a different approach to the science field.

— Misty Snyder

"But 'glory' doesn't mean 'a nice knock-down argument,'" Alice objected.

"When I use a word," Humpty Dumpty said in rather a scornful tone, "it means just what I choose it to mean — neither more nor less."

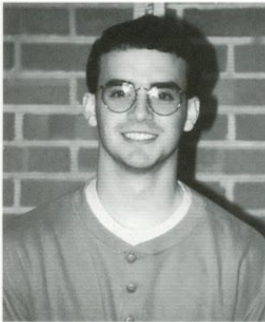

Amy Marlena Ghorley

Amy is majoring in Music education/French. She chose to come to Hiwassee because of the scholarships she received and because of the comfort she felt in spending two independent years here. She would like to thank Ms. Deborah Hicks for her support and care. She also sends thanks to the "Brazen Huzzies," her fellow majors, and "to those who strive for the light of day and refuse to let the darkness take them over. God speed the fight."

— Misty Snyder

Polly Ann Kromhout

James Robert Hicks

Robbie is currently undecided about his major. He chose to come to Hiwassee because of the many scholarships he received. He would like to thank all of his friends, teachers, and especially Deborah Hicks who helped him get through the past two years.

— Misty Snyder

Erin Elizabeth Burnette

Erin's goal is to become a missionary or college professor. She chose Hiwassee because she felt that God led her to it. Her most memorable moments were the goat, talks past midnight, kites, hallway slip-n-slide, and the "Floating Men." Erin thanks Mrs. Summit, Stacey, the Brazen "People," her friends, Mrs. Gayle Brown. Philippians 1:2-11.

— Amy Ghorley

Anthony Clay Grills

Anthony is majoring in the ministry. He chose to come to Hiwassee because of Donna Parker's persistence, and because she remembered his name. He sends thanks to all of his friends and teachers, along with a special thanks to Amy Ghorley for all of her help.

— Amy Ghorley

Polly is majoring in LMU-Nursing. She chose Hiwassee for the quality education it offers. The small teacher/student ratio was an additional reason she chose Hiwassee. Another reason was the friendly, caring staff that always remembered her name. "I would love to tell each of my teachers thank you for being so dedicated and encouraging! I will never forget Hiwassee!!" she exclaims.

Resident Assistants

Things were different this year compared to the way things were the previous year. The resident assistants for Allison, Brock, and Tom Black Halls worked diligently to keep order and revive the resident life here at Hiwassee College. With the help of their trusted Hall Directors, these students cut down on the number of incidents and started new exciting activities, such as Monday Night Nitro. All in all, it was a good year to live in the dormitories.

— Terry Johnson

Alice said to the White Queen, "... and, dear me, what a state your hair is in!" The White Queen replied, "The brush has got entangled in it! ... And I lost the comb yesterday!"

Mrs. Barbara Arwood

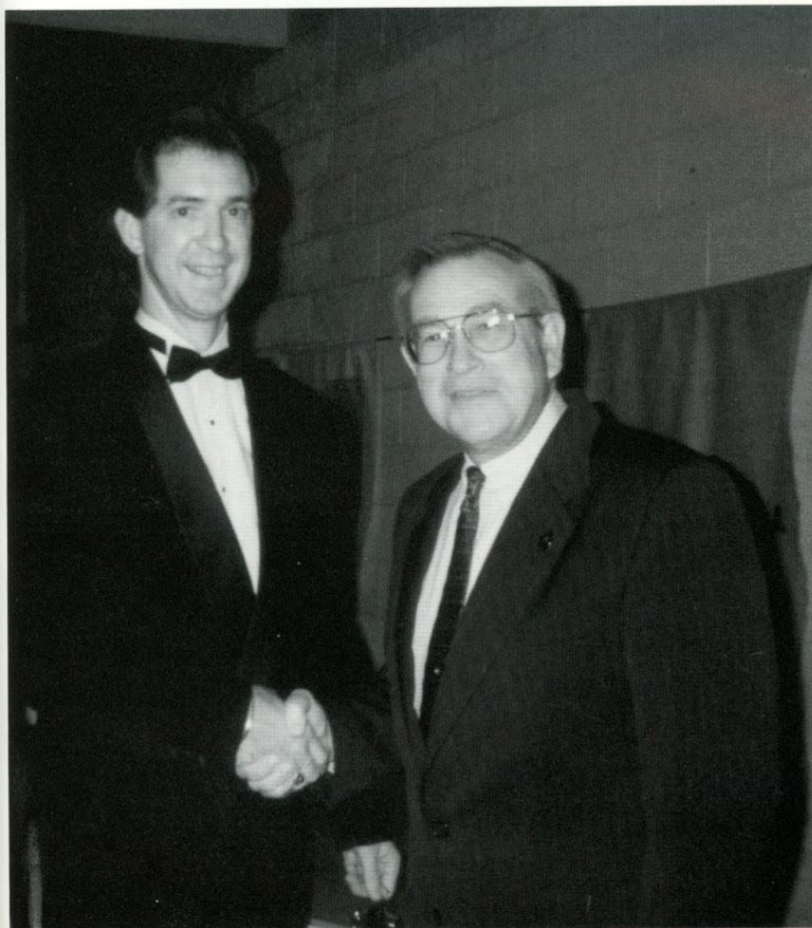

Mrs. Barbara Arwood grew up in Iowa. She went to Bethal College and received her bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University for Women in 1963. She taught freshman English for 3 years in Nashville and for 1 year in Knoxville. She then started to work at UTK, where she earned her master's degree. She has two children, Amy and Blaine, and has been married to her husband for 26 years.

Mrs. Arwood started to work at Hiwassee in 1981 and became Student Support Services director in 1987. This year she is retiring from her full-time employment at Hiwassee, but will be working part-time here in Public Relations through the Development Office.

Her leadership in Student Support will be greatly missed.

Dr. Curtis English

Dr. Curtis English began serving as president of Hiwassee in July 1996. He has received his B.S. from Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania, M.A. from the University of Oklahoma, and Ed.D from Vanderbilt.

He is a 27-year veteran of the Navy and has achieved the rank of Captain. He served as the Commanding Officer of two Navy units.

Dr. English has also accomplished a great deal while being at Hiwassee for only one year. He has put into progress the new student center, raised financial aid and enrollment.

We are all proud of him and grateful for his service to our College.

And the Dance Continues . . .

God in ever-lasting form watches the framework of a simple pilgrim trying to make her way home. He instructs her in the path of goodness and of grace, yet she, at times, falls short to His expectations of her. But He upon countless times leads her back and restores her faith and hope for the next day. He forgives and assures her that all she is and does is not in vain. There will be a brighter side to life.

This is me, my pilgrimage into the arms of my Abba. He constantly reminds me of my strengths, when the world reminds me of my weaknesses. He makes it known how special each breath I take is. My errors and mistakes are great, yet I continue to strive for one more day to make things better for those around me.

Many thank-you's are due: Herff-Jones for all your patience and especially to Jennifer for all her help; Lewis Carroll for his book THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS AND WHAT ALICE FOUND THERE, Book-of-the-Month Club, New York, 1994; The ADVOCATE, thanks for the pictures, Tinker Ivens; Ms. Deborah Hicks, I appreciate the countless times you listened and helped me to understand myself a little better each day; Dr. "Guido" Schiavoni, for challenging me to think and to understand others better, I will eternally be grateful; Mr. Bohner, I thank-you for being a teacher, conductor, and friend. You are an inspiration; Ms. Tompkins, for reminding me of responsibilities we all must have; Stacy, for your being you and following God's lead; The Brazen Huzzies, God only knows how much I love each one of you. You are some of the most godly women I know; Elizabeth, a ray of hope in my life, you never give yourself enough credit. I love you, Marl, little brother, thank-you for being there; Cory, thank-you for being the man of God you are. You have influenced and affected me in my daily walk with God. You will reach many people and be blessed. Just remember it is all in God's time, not yours, but His; Anthony, thanks for thought-provoking and making me realize what I believe in; Toby and Mandy, thanks for caring and making me laugh! (I love you guys); Maggie, "the next clan leader," I love you and you are a very dear friend; Gina, you know you're one of my best friends! Andy, thanks for reminding me of all the activities on campus; Andy, Terry, and Christy, thanks for the last-minute help; Robbie, I'll miss you, you've always been my brother. I love you.

To all those whom I have not mentioned, I love you. Each one of you lives partially in me. All the choir, drama, and local campus folk, you are forever in my heart.

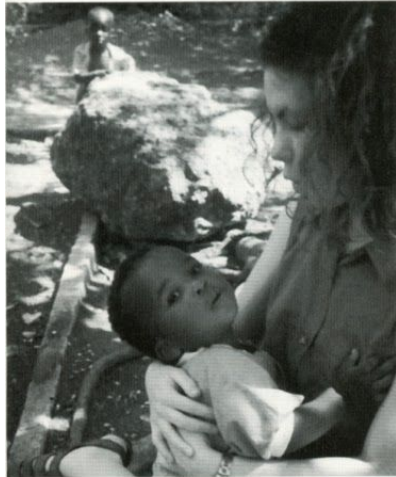

My last and not least thank-you is to God, the Lord of my life's dance. He is my reason for living, breathing, and existing. He is my all and all that I need. Father, thank-you for this child's heart and guide her always. Thank-you most of all for the dance of a lifetime.

In the light of truth and grace
I am forever His,
— Amy Ghorley, 1996-1997 Editor

*Let us pray, let us pray, everywhere in every way. Every moment of the day, it is the right time. Let us pray without end and when we finish start again. Like breathing out and in, let us pray — Steven Curtis Chapman, SIGNS OF LIFE, 1996 Sparrow Corporation*

GRADUATES

Through the endless journeys of a lifetime, we have sought the constancy of everloving and caring companions of friends. These are the individuals we take midnight walks with and talk about our inmost feelings and problems.

When we began our journey here at Hiwassee, we left the things of childhood behind. We left friends and family and had to start all over again. By this quest of a lifetime, we, in a sense, have gained a new family. A family that will stay together in heart, mind, and soul, though time and location may separate us.

Friends we have made here are willing to go the extra mile to help you in your time of need.

Years from now, think back on all our meaningful words of wisdom that we have said and most indefinitely that we will continue to say:

- (1). You're looking awfully brazen today.
- (2). Be good or be good at it.
- (3). That just ain't right!
- (4). Easy, turbo!
- (5). Hooraaah!
- (6). Speak English, boy!
- (7). Ha, ha, ha, SHUT-UP!!!
- (8). It's too hot for a penguin to be outside.
- (9). commando? or COMMANDO!
- (10). She's tough as nails!
- (11). That's what I'm screamn'!
- (12). No problem, Mon. I miss Jamaica!
- (13). How Nice?!!
- (14). If you need us, we'll be around.
- (15). I am Batman!
- (16). Too sweet!
- (17). @$% sister, give me my keys!
- (18). Dooooope!
- (19). Stop the bus, I want to wee, wee.
- (20). You got a "purty" mouth, boy.
- (21). I feel your pain.
- (22). We have a problem, Houston.
- (23). Yeah, whatever!
- (24). Take it real easy.
- (25). She-ahh!
- (26). Harlet and Flossy
- (27). Could've done without that.

Though these enlightening words of wisdom may appear comical, they are what we say. These were phrases from our everyday vocabulary. Sometimes, it is difficult for us to convey the inner truth of the meaning behind the words. These words can shape us or they can break us. We, however, must remember how much we love to use them and how each person that said them brought the gift of laughter to us. The gift of laughter is a gift that only a true friend can give. They make us smile and sometimes forget life's pain when we are having a bad day. Laughter — what a miraculous gift of God to man.

— Andy Burchfield, Amy Ghorley, and Terry Johnson
